

WAR IN THE MIDST OF AMERICA.

FROM A NEW POINT OF VIEW.
BY CHARLES DRYDEN.

Price

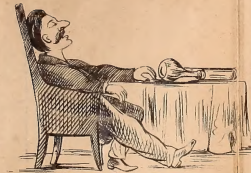

ACKERMANN & CO UPPER KING ST HOLBORN, LONDON.

The want of the age

Our Artist ponders over it

Sleeps upon it

rides with the occasion and takes his walks abroad bears a Morning Star with a bright account of Federal success orders home some paper and pencils

and at once begins drawing

Summons the Muse of History, who shows him

the Sovereign people of a free state with the stain upon it

Elevation of Abraham Lincoln to the President's Chair and consequent excitement in

New York.

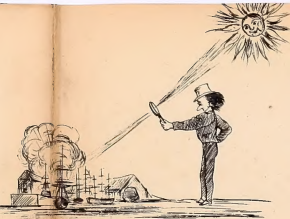

Calling out
the Militia

Bombardment of Fort Sumter

Taking of Fort Sumter
by General Beauregard

Burning of Norfolk
Naval Yard.

General Scott, sounds
the War whoop.
(Man asses)
Going into action

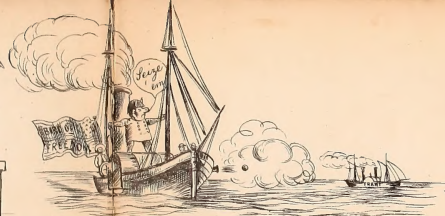

at Bull's run

Shedaddling

A General 'Ass-embly

Gallant naval action - stoppage of the Trent - 'Wilkes and (a great) liberty.

Meeting of the Trenchard brothers

The Merrimac making merry with the Cumberland

is rebuked by the Monitor.

General Pope
leads the Dance
of Death.

Appointment of
M. C. C. to the Army of the Potomac.

Leading his Forces

his splendid Artillery

On to Richmond!

a slight impediment.

commencement of the Battle of Antietam.

villanous assault by a fellow called Stonewall Jackson.

Retreat for strategic purposes

McClan resigns

and recommends Burnside whose method of not taking Richmond is shown above.

Fighting Joe Hooker
tries his hand.

then retires.

Meade stops Lee at Gettysburg.

and sticks in the mud
like the others.

but the Army of the Potomac is safe.

and goes into Winter Quarters.

Copperhead - riots in New York

Man hat - on calculates - with

The Editor of the New York Herald who patronizes him

General Hallack orders the War Department.

WAR DEPARTMENT
5 minutes after

Gilmore besieges Charleston.

and Gold rises above par — causing a rush upon the bank.

Cherry Chase!

The Pierce of
the Federal States
making their game

while the ball is rolling—

At length

Abraham
entreats Grant to restore the Union.

over a quiet pipe he lays his plans.

Reviews the Grand Army of the Home.

and begins
his march.

General Hunter leads a
'forlorn hope'.

Captain Semmes in the Alabama attacking a Merchantman.

How they telegraph from Washington.

Grant's arrival
before the walls of Richmond.

Abraham
visits Grant
in Camp.

to the terror and confusion of Lee and Davis

*Sinking
of the Habana
by the Mearsage*

*Mr. Chase
resigns*

Mr. Fessenden glances at the Books

Confederate raid in Maryland

Hervey's resistance offered by the Federals.

*the easiest way
of taking Richmond.*

The component parts of the Federal Army.

What they escaped in their Fatherland.

What they get in the land of their adoption

A few minutes being allowed for refreshment our Artist liquors up and talks with the barmaid.

to the disgust
of the proprietor
and his wife

Perceiving which, he seizes the paper and reads - "any thing in a cocked hat serves for a Federal General."

Struck by that remark, he disappears hastily, having omitted to pay for his grog

Policeman X
in pursuit.

Reaches the Wharf X exhausted in time to hear a cry of -

Westward Ho!

'One month' after date...

Our Artist" reappears as Commander in Chief of the Federal Forces.

and receives a salute

which he returns with interest.

prepares for a new Campaign

"En avant"

Crosses the Kapidan
with small loss.

preparation for an engagement

attack

repulse

flight

pursuit

a Trap

nothing daunted
he resumes his march

sweeping the Rebels before him

sees Richmond
in the distance and stoops
to seize it

but is stopped
by the Lionidas
of the South

in whom he discovers a long lost relation;

They
embrace.

Enter
Jeff Davis

the two seek
the nearest Canteen,

where they like
'soldiers fall.

"Our Artist"
is up by times & collars the key

which opens the gate of Richmond;

conveys
the Sentry.

seizes upon the Treasury

receives a deputation

is "waited on"
by the Governor and rescued by the 'poor slave'

who is thereon elevated to the Pier edge and becomes Commander of the Bath

Finding a gun back
he becomes Prince of Mount-Vigro

and begins to emancipate his black brethren.

to the delight of Henry Ward Beecher

Our Artist has in the mean time made some arrangements of his own, which are interfered with by a planter - who receives another from Mrs. Harriet Beecher's too.

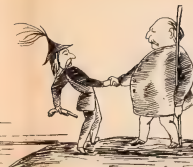

enabling the Hero
to escape on board a Gun-boat

Is met by a Privateer,

but the Privateer
here fires the Gun
and this is the result.

On reaching Terra-firma he is welcomed by General Butler and Staff and does not seem to like it.

proceeds
to New York

Is welcomed by the citizens.

Addresses a 'monster meeting' provided over by Reuben Brownlow.

*and is called
'old hoss'*

Meets the 'Special Correspondent' of a London Paper.

*who opens him a yarn
'as long as a bit of string'* sinking under the infliction he is carried off.

Means adopted for his restoration

like Richard 3rd is 'himself again', Is introduced to the 'lady of the land' He says he 'lets it out' for which remark he is literally and renews the Militia who of course asks him 'if he keeps his health' which he does 'ecce signum'. 'Knocked into a cocked hat' and dreams of a burglary perpetrated in the Brazil.

Little Mac and 'old Abe' throw for a great stake.

and the winner
is serenaded:

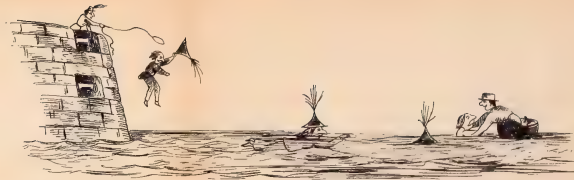

while our regno
in New York.

Our Artist sympathizes with the 'respectable' Butler.

and is marched off to Fort 'Lafayette' from which he escapes by leaping into the sea (if there is any there).

swims for
'Liberty'!!

is picked up by the crew of a 'funny'

and conveyed on board a steamer bound for perfidious Albion

Arrived
in England

encounters Pleasantman x

gives him
leg bail

and escapes by the Pneumatic Railway

Apotheosis of 'old Abe' after which a general flareup and the curtain drops.

71.2009.084.07413

WAR IN THE MIDST OF AMERICA ;

FROM A NEW POINT OF VIEW.

BY CHARLES DRYDEN.

PUBLISHED BY ACKERMANN & CO.,

34, UPPER KING STREET, HOLBORN.

71.2009.084.07413

